Planning Your Trip

The first step in planning your Alaska Highway trip is to decide when you want to go. The best time to travel the highway is during the summer months, when the weather is warm and the days are long. decide how much time you want to spend on the road. If you're short on time, you can drive the highway in a few days. However, if you want to take your time and explore the sights along the way, you should plan for a trip of at least two weeks.

Once you've planned your route, you need to start booking your accommodations. There are a variety of lodging options available along the Alaska Highway, from campgrounds to bed and breakfasts. You should book your accommodations in advance, especially if you're traveling during the peak season.
