Here are some tips on how to get started:

1. Find your passion. What are you passionate about? What issues are important to you? Once you know what you care about, you can start to look for ways to get involved.
2. Volunteer your time. There are many organizations that need volunteers to help them achieve their goals. You can find volunteer opportunities in your local community or online.
3. Donate money. If you don't have time to volunteer, you can still make a difference by donating money to organizations that are working to make the world a better place.

4. Get involved in activism. Activism is a great way to make your voice heard and to advocate for the changes you want to see in the world.
5. Educate yourself. The more you know about the issues that you care about, the better equipped you will be to make a difference.

You don't have to change the whole world to make a difference. Even small acts of kindness can make a big impact. By getting involved in your community and working to make a difference, you can help create a better world for yourself and for future generations.

Here are some examples of people who have made a difference in the world:

- Martin Luther King, Jr. was a civil rights leader who fought for equality for all people.
- Mother Teresa was a nun who dedicated her life to helping the poor and sick.
- Nelson Mandela was a South African anti-apartheid activist who became the first black president of South Africa.
- Malala Yousafzai is a Pakistani activist for female education who was shot by the Taliban.
- Greta Thunberg is a Swedish environmental activist who has inspired millions of people around the world to take action on climate change.

These are just a few examples of the many people who have made a difference in the world. You can be one of them. By getting involved and working to make a difference, you can help create a better world for yourself and for future generations.
